

VIPole Business club

Partner program

Make money through communication

We are always online

The amount of time we spend online grows every year, with business and private chats in messengers together with the e-mail, social media and the news. It's a part of life.

On average, a European in 2016

spends in mobile apps

3 hours 15 minutes

checks accounts in social media

17 times per day

checks a messenger

23 times per day

chats in a messenger

195 mins per week

Can we benefit from online communication?

We share opinions, impressions and advices, we are always up for something new. However, it doesn't necessarily make us happier and more satisfied with our lives.

Do we take the most of the opportunities the internet offers?

Is there an easy way to collaborate online professionally?

How can the internet help dreams come true?
